Speaker

Jessie Desir, M.S. Ed., AMB-BC, OCN

Jessie is an experienced nurse professional with 20 years' experience in inpatient nursing administration, nursing care management, cardiothoracic surgery, all intensive care units and as a nurse educator. While completing a Ph.D. program, she is currently an adjunct didactic with a school of nursing and clinical instructor. Additionally, Jessie serves as a nurse educator in ambulatory care and outpatient adult oncology infusion services.

She enjoys the diversity of teaching various nursing academic topics and consistently teaches the ambulatory care nurse certification course at an academic healthcare system. Jessie is a proud board member of the local oncology nursing society chapter, where she promotes and provides focus group education on oncology certification nurse topics. She is passionate about nursing education, and her energy responds well to the innovative dynamism of generational nurse adult learning needs

MED-ED reserves the right to substitute an equally qualified speaker if necessary.

Course Overview

This program provides a comprehensive review of oncology nursing practice in preparation for the OCN Exam administered by the Oncology Nursing Certification Corporation (ONCC). The review will provide content and practice questions reflective of the 2022 OCN Exam content outline. Topics include: cancer continuum, oncology nursing practice, cancer treatment modalities, symptom management and palliative care, oncologic emergencies and psychosocial dimensions of care. This course is not meant to be an introductory course to oncology nursing practice.

Program Learning Outcomes

This program prepares the learner to:

- Self-report at a 90% rate an increase in knowledge and a readiness to take the OCN Certification Exam
