Speaker

Betty R. Clark, MEd, BSN, RN, CRRN

Betty brings 43 years of neurological and rehabilitation nursing expertise to her courses and seminars. She started as a bedside neuro nurse after graduating with her BSN at the University of Virginia. She developed a passion to teach patients and their families how to live with a disability. She expanded her teaching to nurses after completing her MEd at the University of Virginia. Her career path includes academia, home health administration, staff development, consulting and research. She became a Certified Rehabilitation Registered Nurse (CRRN®) in 1989. In the past 26 years, she has taught many CRRN review courses nationally and internationally. Betty has presented at national Association of Rehabilitation Nurses (ARN) conferences on sexuality issues for persons with a disability and numerous other rehabilitation topics. She has received recognition as both Rehabilitation Educator and Administrator of the Year.

Course Overview

This two-day seminar is for nurses providing care to rehabilitation patients. It is designed to enhance the skills of rehabilitation nurses working in a variety of inpatient or outpatient settings. Rehabilitation nursing standards of care and practice will be reviewed. Participants will gain additional skills to manage the complex needs of rehabilitation patients as well as work more effectively in the interdisciplinary team.

Program Learning Outcomes

This program prepares the learner to:

- Describe the history and evolution of rehabilitation care.
- Discuss the standards of care and practice for rehabilitation nurses.
- Discuss the role of the rehabilitation nurse in the care and treatment of patients across the continuum of care.
- Describe disease processes that relate to patients requiring rehabilitation
